Identification of criteria and description of the object of the service

The Remuneration Report was prepared by the Supervisory Board in order to meet the requirements of Article 90g(1) of the Public Offering Act. The applicable requirements for the Remuneration Report are contained in the Public Offering Act.

Responsibility of Supervisory Board Members

In accordance with the Public Offering Act, Members of the Company's Supervisory Board are responsible for preparing the Remuneration Report in accordance with applicable laws, and in particular for the completeness of the report and the information included therein.

The Supervisory Board's responsibility also includes the design, implementation and maintenance of an internal control system that ensures the preparation of a complete Remuneration Report that is free from any material misstatement due to fraud or error.

Auditor's responsibility

Our goal was to assess the completeness of the information provided in the Remuneration Report against the criterion set forth in the Identification of criteria and description of the object of the service, and to express, based on the evidence obtained, an independent conclusion from the attestation service performed that provides reasonable assurance.

We performed the service in accordance with the regulations of the National Standard for Assurance Services Other than Audits and Reviews 3000 (Z), as amended by International Standard for Assurance Services 3000 (amended) - "Assurance Services Other than Audits or Reviews of Historical Financial Information", adopted by resolutions of the National Council of Statutory Auditors (hereinafter: "KSUA 3000 (Z)").

This standard requires the auditor to plan and execute procedures in such a way as to obtain reasonable assurance that the Remuneration Report has been prepared completely in accordance with the specified criteria.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of certainty, but it does not guarantee that a service conducted in accordance with KSUA 3000 (Z) will always detect an existing material misstatement.

The choice of procedures depends on the auditor's judgment, including the auditor's estimate of the risk of material misstatement due to fraud or error. In carrying out an estimate of this risk, the auditor takes into account the internal controls associated with the preparation of a complete report in order to plan appropriate procedures to provide the auditor with sufficient and appropriate evidence for the circumstances. The evaluation of the functioning of the internal control system was not conducted to express a conclusion on the effectiveness of its operation.

The procedures we planned and carried out included, in particular:

- reviewing the text of the Remuneration Report and comparing the information contained therein with the applicable requirements;
- reading the resolutions of the Company's General Meeting on the remuneration policy for Members of the Management Board and Supervisory Board and the resolutions of the Supervisory Board detailing them;
- determining, by means of comparison to corporate documents, the list of persons with respect to whom there is a requirement to include information in the Remuneration Report and determining, by inquiries of those responsible for preparing the report and, where we have deemed it appropriate, also directly of those affected by the requirement to include information, whether all the information stipulated by the criteria for preparing the Remuneration Report has been disclosed.

Our procedures were solely aimed at obtaining evidence that the information provided by the Supervisory Board in the Remuneration Report for completeness complies with the applicable requirements. The purpose of our work was not to assess the sufficiency of the information included in the Remuneration Report in terms of the purpose of preparing the Remuneration Report, nor to assess the correctness and reliability of the information included therein, particularly as to the amounts disclosed, including estimates made for previous years, numbers, dates, inclusion in the breakdown, methods of allocation, compliance with the remuneration policy adopted by the Management Board.

The Remuneration Report was not audited in accordance with the National Auditing Standards. In the course of the attestation procedures performed, we did not audit or review the information used to prepare the Remuneration Report, and therefore we do not accept responsibility for issuing or updating any reports or opinions on the Company's historical financial information.

We believe that the evidence we have obtained provides a sufficient and adequate basis for our conclusion below.

2. Management Board

The table below includes an overview of the remuneration of PZU SA Management Board Members for 2023. It includes those who served on the Company's Management Board during the reporting period. In accordance with PZU SA's Remuneration Policy, the remuneration of Members of the Management Board was presented with a breakdown into a fixed portion and a variable portion. The table separates the value of fixed remuneration, paid in 2023, and the value of additional benefits payable to Management Board Members, broken down into training and other monetary and non-monetary benefits.

The PZU Group's status as the country's only financial conglomerate (comprising insurance companies, banks, investment and pension funds, as well as companies operating in various areas of the economy and in international markets), obliges it to properly and efficiently manage its assets. In addition, the status of public entities relevant for the Polish economy and the financial market, translates into an obligation for Members of the Management Board to constantly expand their knowledge and improve their qualifications in the area of the Company's operations and the PZU Group as a whole. For this reason, the Company finances the participation of the Company's executives in domestic and foreign training courses, gaining in practice a direct benefit from the funds spent by having highly qualified executives, which in effect serves to achieve the ambitious goals set by the Supervisory Board in a highly competitive and demanding investment environment. It also boosts the confidence of existing shareholders and makes it possible to attract new shareholders, both domestic and foreign. It also serves to implement the principles of appropriateness set by regulations and the expectations of the KNF Board.

In addition to fixed remuneration, the following summary includes the value of variable remuneration paid in 2023, broken down into non-deferred and deferred variable remuneration. The detailed rules for determining variable remuneration are described in more detail in Chapters 4 and 5 of the report. In determining the amount of variable remuneration due for 2023, the level of achievement of management objectives is taken into account, including:

- a) Improvement of economic and financial indicators, including: PZU Group's financial result attributable to the parent company, return on equity (ROE),
- b) taking actions that take into account the interests of society, including resulting in the Company's contribution to environmental protection,
- c) Group value growth, i.e., the degree to which the key metrics of the PZU Group Strategy describing the value of the PZU Group have been realized, including: net banking segment income attributable to the PZU Group, health pillar income, group and individually continued insurance operating margin.

The Company funds a pension plan for its employees only, and therefore does not grant pension packages to either Management Board Members or Supervisory Board Members.

The amounts shown in the report are in accordance with the remuneration policy adopted by PZU SA and the provisions of the Act of 9 June 2016 on the principles of shaping the remuneration of persons managing certain companies<sup>2</sup>, which are applicable to the Company.

Components of remuneration of members of the Supervisory Board of PZU SA received at other PZU Group entities

In 2023, PZU SA Supervisory Board Member Radosław Sierpiński received remuneration from PZU Zdrowie SA in the amount of PLN 15,000 for serving on the Scientific Council of PZU Zdrowie SA. The other Members of the PZU SA Supervisory Board did not receive any remuneration at other PZU Group entities.

4. Compliance with the adopted remuneration policy

The remuneration of the Members of the Management Board and Supervisory Board of PZU SA is compliant with the Remuneration Policy adopted by the Company. It contributes to the Company's long-term performance by linking the remuneration of Management Board Members to the achievement of objectives set in the PZU Group Strategy.

The total remuneration of the Members of the Company's Management Board consists of a fixed portion, representing the monthly base remuneration (hereinafter: fixed remuneration), and a variable portion, representing the supplementary remuneration for the financial year (hereinafter: variable remuneration). The fixed remuneration, as well as the variable remuneration, granted to members of the Management Board is within the limits set by the Act of 9 June 2016 on the principles of shaping the remuneration of persons managing certain companies. The amount of variable remuneration may not exceed the amount of fixed remuneration in the previous financial year to which the calculation applies. The amount of variable remuneration is determined by the Supervisory Board after the end of the financial year on the basis of the level of achievement of management objectives set for the year. Management objectives set for Management Board Members by the Supervisory Board take into account the achievement of strategic objectives and indicators of their achievement as defined in the PZU Group Strategy. In addition to the aforementioned remuneration components, members of the Management Board are also entitled to the same benefits as those due to the Company's senior management, in particular, such as:

- 1) training courses to improve the professional skills necessary to serve as a member of the Company's Management Board;
- 2) medical care;
- 3) insurance:
  - a) Directors' and Officers' Liability (D&O),
  - b) life and health and lost remuneration due to incapacity caused by illness or accident.

The monthly remuneration of Supervisory Board Members is fixed and is the product of the basis of assessment referred to in Article 1(3)(11), of the Act of 9 June 2016 on the principles of shaping the remuneration of persons managing certain companies, and a multiplier of 2.75.

In accordance with the Remuneration Policy, the remuneration of the Chairman of the Supervisory Board is increased by 10%, the Vice-Chairman - by 9%, and the Secretary of the Supervisory Board - by 8% of the amount of monthly remuneration determined as described above. The remuneration of the chairmen of the committees functioning in the Supervisory Board is increased by 9% of the amount of monthly remuneration. Additional remuneration due for holding the role of the chair, deputy chair or secretary of the Supervisory Board and chairs of committees do not add up.

5. Performance criteria

The amount of the variable part of the remuneration of the Management Board Members is linked to the Company's performance, in particular the achievement of management objectives set annually by the Company's Supervisory Board. In setting management objectives, the Supervisory Board takes into account the strategic goals and their indicators set out in the PZU Group Strategy. In addition, it establishes weights for individual management objectives and objective and measurable indicators for their achievement and accountability (KPIs).

There are general management objectives, which relate in particular to the improvement of economic and financial indicators and the Company's activities that take into account social interests, including those that contribute to environmental protection

Resolution No. 4/2017 of the Extraordinary General Meeting of PZU S.A. of 8 February 2017 on the principles of shaping the remuneration of the Members of the Management Board of Powszechny Zakład Ubezpieczeń Spółka Akcyjna (as amended) established general management objectives covering growth in the Company's value and the aforementioned objective covering improvement of economic and financial indicators.

The Remuneration Policy also distinguishes management objectives in the form of:

- a) implementation of principles of remuneration of members of management and supervisory bodies in accordance with the provisions of the Act of 9 June 2016 on the principles of shaping the remuneration of persons managing certain companies in all subsidiaries of the Company within the capital group within the meaning of Article 4(14) of the Act of 16 February 2007 on competition and consumer protection<sup>26</sup>,
- b) implementation of the obligations referred to in Articles 17-20, 22 and 23 of the Act of 16 December 2016 on the principles of state property management<sup>27</sup>.

The Supervisory Board, in shaping the fixed remuneration of the Management Board Members and setting management objectives for them, ensures that they comply with the norms for the operation of regulated entities, including the principle of prudent and stable management of the entity.

Remuneration of Supervisory Board Members is not linked to the Company's performance. The rules for remunerating members of the Supervisory Board are regulated by § 12 of the Remuneration Policy.
